Children come here to learn all aspects of acting and musical theater, from improv to ensemble dance. For the younger set, there is the Broadway Babies program, in which toddlers and their caregivers enjoy renditions of Broadway songs ($225-$525); there's also weekly after-school acting classes for kids 5-12 ($475), and by-audition musical-theater workshops that culminate in a group public performance at an Off Broadway venue ($700). The company occasionally offers scholarships and payment programs for the especially needy.
